Other mechanisms designed to assist with cash flow:

- Accelerated and Advance Payments Program for Providers and Suppliers During COVID-19 Emergency
- Emergency EIDL Grants
- Employee Retention Credit for Employers Subject due to Closure Due to COVID-19 - Provides a refundable payroll tax credit for 50 percent of wages paid by employers to employees during the COVID-19 emergency. These credits are available to employers whose operations are either fully or partially suspended due to a shutdown order, or employers whose gross receipts decline by more than 50 percent compared to the same quarter in the prior year.

- Delay of Payment of Employer Payroll Taxes – allows employer to defer payment on the employer contribution of payroll taxes through the end of the year. Half of the deferred amount will be due December 31, 2021 with the remaining half due December 31, 2022.
- Other modifications of tax law intended to provide additional cash flow.

There is also funding in the CARES Act for telehealth and rural health, Title IV-B child welfare, and activities under the Runaway and Homeless Youth Act. There are additional allocations for Food and Nutrition Service programs including the Child Nutrition Program, SNAP, and the Commodity Assistance Program. FEMA also received funds, $200 million of which are to be used for FEMA's Emergency Food and Shelter Program.
